Doctor details research breakthroughs at Massachusetts General Hospital benefit

Sunday, March 02, 2008

Dr. Daniel Haber was the guest speaker at a dinner to benefit the Massachusetts General Hospital Cancer Center.

The event took place Feb. 16 at the Four Seasons Resort and included a cocktail reception, dinner and Haber's talk.

Haber is the director of the cancer center. He discussed recent research breakthroughs at the center, specifically in the detection of circulating tumor cells in blood samples.

He was one of the senior investigators of this groundbreaking study, the findings of which were announced in December.

Bridget Moran was chairwoman for the event. Timothy Moran and Ken Beer were chairmen.

More than 115 people attended, including several of the center's doctors and researchers.
